

Disease Is Clutching Western Armies in Its Ghastly Hana

That the allies should be called to their attention regarding the future of the Balkans.

Italy, too, has been affected by the Austrian advance, and her ambassadors at the European capitals have been called home to confer with the Cabinet. Marquis Imperiali, Italian ambassador to Great Britain, will leave for Rome to-morrow.

To prevent tea reaching Germany from England through neutral countries, Great Britain has prohibited its exportation to European countries except those of the allies, Spain and Portugal. Since the outbreak of the war, tea exports to Holland have reached enormous proportions.

FURTHER STEPS TO PREVENT INVASION OF EAST COAST
The admiralty has taken further steps to protect the east coast ports by the extension of the mine field. This seems to support rumors that a German raid on the east coast is expected. It is generally believed here that if Germany is balked in other directions she will endeavor to attack England, no matter how desperate such an expedition is considered.

Subscriptions to the war loan continue, and it was reported unofficially to-night a further appropriation of between $3,000,000 and $5,000,000. The loan calls for only $1,750,000,000.

KHEDIVE OF EGYPT LEADS REVOLT AGAINST ENGLAND
[Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.] PARIS, November 20.—The news, received by wireless from German sources, that the Khedive of Egypt had revolted against British control and plans to return to Egypt with a Turkish army, is confirmed by the Temps, whose correspondent at Ithodes cables to-night as follows:

The common knowledge that, following England's refusal to allow him to return to Egypt, the Khedive became enamored of the prospect of re-entering Cairo with a victorious Ottoman army, which the German and the Young Turks held forth to him. He has organized caravans, with horses, tents and provisions for a campaign.

The Turkish army concentrated in the vicinity of Damascus is estimated at 200,000 men, but I believe that only 70,000 of them possess fighting value. The Germans, therefore, induced the Khedive to march with them with the object of stirring the Arab population to join the army.

CRUISERS WERE ON WAY TO HOME OF EMPEROR
PETROGRAD (via London), November 20.—From reports received here of the Russo-Turkish naval engagement off Sebastopol, it is apparent that Turkish cruisers Goeben and Breslau were on their way to the summer residence of Emperor Nicholas, just outside Yalta.

There seemingly was much confusion aboard the Goeben when the Russian ships were sighted. Five miles off the mouth of Sebastopol harbor.

STRAYED.—From 721 Stuart Avenue, a setter pup, white with one black ear and small black spots on body. Reward if returned to above number to W. M. Gilmore, care Snyder & Hundley.

The Goeben made no immediate alteration in her course, nor did she open fire at once.

The Russian fleet steamed in battle formation, bringing the Goeben between them and the coast.

The Russian flagship Levstov opened a broadside with her twelve-inch guns, hitting the Goeben's upper deck and setting the ship on fire. The Goeben replied, but in spite of the short range, with only a few hits.

While turning to pursue the Goeben, the Levstov landed several more shells on the Turkish boat, evidently crippling the main turret. The Israeli took no part in the fighting.

WILL NOT RELINQUISH EFFORTS TO TAKE CALAIS
[Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.] PARIS, November 20.—"That Germany does not intend to relinquish her desperate fight for Calais is shown by the fact that General von Dalmann, commanding the Fifteenth German Army Corps, has just made all his officers take an oath to die rather than abandon the struggle to enter Ypres," says the Echo de Paris.

The war correspondent of the Echo de Paris states that, when the allies landed several more shells on the Turkish boat, evidently crippling the main turret. The Israeli took no part in the fighting.

EMPEROR GIVES ALL TO WAR EXCHANGE
[Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.] PARIS, November 20.—The Emperor Francis Joseph has contributed all his private fortune to the war exchange, according to a telegram from Vienna. The same telegram states that Hungarian women in Vienna are giving their wedding rings to the war fund, and that thousands of church members and Sunday-school pupils are contributing to the church yearly through this neglect.

ADAMANTLY ISSUES WARNING TO SHIPPING
LONDON, November 20.—The admiralty issues a warning to shipping, stating that "in view of the extension of the system of mine defense, pilots will henceforth be necessary in the Humber, the Tyne, the North of Forth, Moray Firth and Scapa Flow."

All of these harbors, except that of the Humber, are on the east coast of Scotland.

AEROPLANES DROPPING BOMBS IN AMIENS
PARIS, November 20.—Four Taube aeroplanes have thrown fifteen bombs upon Amiens. A gasometer was exploded by one of the bombs, killing a German and fifteen horses and blowing off another German's leg. A number of houses in the residential quarter have been damaged.

Paintings Bricked Up.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] PARIS, November 20.—The big paintings at the Louvre, which it has been inconvenient to remove, have been bricked up, according to the Cride Paris. Walls have been built in front of them to afford protection from aeroplane bombs.

BELOW WILL ATTEMPT TO WIN ITALY OVER
[Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.] BUELOW, November 20.—Prince von Buelow, the new German ambassador to Rome, intends to make tremendous efforts to induce Italy to declare war against the allies," says Figaro, and adds:

"But we feel that the appointment is destined to make Italy's rebuff of her former ally more emphatic."

AUSTRIA TAKES SEVERE MEASURES AGAINST BRITISH
VIENNA (via Paris), November 20.—Vienna authorities are taking severe measures against English people remaining in that city. During the past few days many Britishers have been interned, and the rest, irrespective of age or sex, are forbidden to leave their homes between 8 o'clock in the evening and 6 in the morning, or to visit cafes or other public places.

A public announcement says these steps have been taken "in view of the wretched situation of Austrians and Hungarians interned in belligerent states, especially England."

The statement adds that the new measures will be enforced "as long as there is no certainty that Austrian citizens in England are being accorded better treatment."

CONDITIONS IN BELGIUM BECOMING MORE SERIOUS
LONDON, November 20.—Notwithstanding the extensive relief work already done in Belgium, conditions are becoming more serious. Jean Van Branden, of the Belgian relief committee, who arrived here today from Brussels, said refugees were pouring into that city at the rate of 25,000 a day.

"This influx," he said, "is due to a lack of fuel, as well as food. Brussels has plenty of coal, but interruption of transportation makes it impossible to carry it to remote villages. Refugees also are flocking to Liege and other large towns."

"The people are dependent entirely on kerosene for heating and cooking, and the supply of this fuel also is becoming scarce."

"The committee now is supplying 600,000 meals daily in Brussels to 250,000 persons. These meals consist of potato soup, some rice and a piece of bread. At the same time, the movement of bread was six ounces daily, but this has been reduced to three ounces. Even the rich and it almost impossible to obtain bread in Brussels, and soon the whole population will form into a vast bread line."

VESSELS ARE MOBILIZING OFF LOWER CALIFORNIA
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] SAN DIEGO, CAL., November 20.—British, Australian and Japanese warships are mobilizing off the coast of lower California, according to word brought here by Captain Robert J. B. of the ocean-going liner Nonesuch.

Israel said the British cruiser Newcastle and the Japanese cruiser Izumo were coaled off the Guadalupe Islands on Tuesday by British vessels. Israel does not know in which direction the two cruisers steamed. Two other warships, southbound, whose names and nationalities he could not learn, were sighted. An unidentified vessel passed his port today, fifteen miles offshore, also southbound.

Israel's story is confirmed by fishermen, and it is generally supposed the warships are mobilizing preparatory to reaching south to attack the German squadron under Admiral von Spee.

Damages of $5,000 Awarded.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] WINCHESTER, VA., November 20.—A jury today gave $5,000 damages to the estate of B. R. Whetzel, who was killed when a trestle collapsed while he was working for the Powhatan Line Company at Strasburg. The court gave the jury $2,000 and three children $1,000 each.

FIRST BUSINESS SESSION IS HELD BY ASSOCIATION

Freezing Weather and Deep Snow Fall to Lessen Interest in Meetings at Bristol.

MANY REPORTS ARE MADE

Dr. Boatwright Discusses "Our Greater Richmond"—Dr. Warren Urges Liberal Policy Toward Thousands of "Homeless Churches."

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] BRISTOL, VA., November 20.—Although freezing weather prevails, with snow three inches deep over Southwest Virginia, the opening business session of the Baptist General Association of Virginia, now holding its ninety-first annual meeting here, was well attended. The day was devoted to receiving reports and their discussion.

The treasurer's report and the report of "co-operation" were presented by Treasurer B. A. Jacob. The report of the Baptist Encampment, by Rev. J. T. Watts, was discussed in an address by Dr. J. M. Frost, of Nashville, who also spoke on the work of the Young People's Union. J. Taylor Elyson, of Richmond, read the report of the educational board, which was adopted.

Addresses were made by Rev. R. A. Williams, of Fredericksburg, who discussed the work of the ministry; Dr. Boatwright, who discussed "Our Greater Richmond College"; Dr. L. E. Warren, of Atlanta, head of the church building department of the Southern Baptist Convention; Dr. John T. Henderson, of Chattanooga, who made an eloquent plea for a liberal support of ministers; and Dr. W. A. Ayers, who discussed "regeneration."

LIBERAL POLICY
Dr. Warren urged the association to maintain a liberal policy with reference to homeless churches. He quoted authorities to show that there are 8,000 church organizations of the denomination without adequate homes, and that thousands of church members and Sunday-school pupils are lost to the church yearly through this neglect.

This afternoon Dr. R. H. Pitt presented the report of the educational commission. In this connection Dr. L. M. Roper, M. M. Morris and Professor C. E. Cressland discussed "The Problem of Denominational Education Upon the Church."

To-night the association listened to an address by George W. McDaniel on the subject: "Is Our Christianity Worth Propagating?" This address was made in connection with a statement of progress of the Judson memorial fund.

In spite of the weather conditions, a deep interest is maintained, and the ministers and laymen are making thoughtful attention. The address by Dr. Henderson this afternoon was rich in thought and purpose and was deeply appreciated. Dr. Henderson, until recently president of the Virginia Interment College here, resigned that work to become general secretary of the Laymen's Movement of the Southern Baptist Convention, and in his new work covers a wide area of country.

To-morrow promises to be the busiest day of the session, as there are a number of important reports to be heard and considered. In the afternoon a memorial session will be held, when tributes will be paid to the memory of thirteen ministers of the association who have died since the meeting a year ago.

REPORT ON EDUCATION IS MADE BY ELYSON

Lieutenant-Governor J. Taylor Elyson presented the report of the educational board, which is the board of the Baptist General Association of Virginia, that has for its work the education of young men for the ministry.

The number of students under the care of the board this session is sixty-five, of which thirty-two are new and thirty-three are old students. Thirteen of these are pursuing their studies at the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary and forty-two at Richmond College, eight at Chatham Training School, one at the Holston Academy, and one at Richmond Academy. The number under the care of the board is four more than the corresponding date last year.

The report mentions the balance in the treasury as the smallest for many years with which to begin a new session, there being $1,000 less than was reported to the general association last year. The church are urged to take some steps to increase the income, otherwise the board will not be able to complete the work of the current year without serious embarrassment.

Appropriate mention is made of the death of Dr. Charles H. Ryland, who for many years was one of its most useful and honored members. He was deeply interested in young men under the care of the board, and by his wise counsel and sympathetic interest did much to encourage them in their task of preparation for preaching the gospel.

The board feels greatly encouraged at the increasing number of young men who are entering the ministry, and looks with confidence and hopefulness upon the work of the new year.

PROHIBITION LAW TO BE CONSTRUED BY COURT

was ordered by the consignee without having received advertisements, price lists or solicitations of orders.

STATE QUOTES FROM

TERMS OF WILSON ACT
In the bill of complaint, the State quoted from the Wilson act, which makes all liquors shipped from another State subject to the operation and effect of laws enacted in the exercise of its police powers. It also invoked the Webb-Kenyon bill, which forbids the shipment of liquor where the consignee is to be used in violation of the laws of the State into which it is to be shipped.

District Judge Keller, in dissolving the temporary injunction, said in part: "Edward Belgel, one of the defendants, is a wholesale dealer in Cincinnati. Prior to July 1, 1914, when the West Virginia prohibition law went into effect, he had been in the habit of mailing letters to inhabitants of West Virginia, advertising his goods for sale and enclosing price lists thereof. Since July 1 he has not done so, and I take it to be admitted for the purposes of this case, that he sent such letters and circulars to R. H. Glendenin, who is a personal use, one-quarter barrel of beer, including his check in payment thereof. Belgel delivered the beer to the Adams Express Company for delivery to his arrival at Charleston. This suit was brought in violation of the law."

USE OF MAILS IN GIVING ORDER IS CHIEF CONTENTION
"The State contends that the effect of its own legislation and the Federal legislation contained in the Wilson and Webb-Kenyon acts is to render it unlawful for a wholesale dealer in Ohio, and having both State and Federal licenses for the conduct of his business, to use the United States mails to inform citizens of West Virginia of his business and the terms upon which it is conducted. At the same time it was admitted that the citizen of West Virginia intending liquor for his own use had a right to order it from a local dealer, and, unquestionably, would have a right to inquire by mail or otherwise of the dealer as to his prices, in which case, of course, the dealer would have a right to send him a price list. It is argued that when a dealer sends such correspondence by letter or circular advertising his business, he therefore violates the State law and further violates the Federal law in that respect unconstitutional. However, that is a matter not directly arising here, as I do not construe the State law as attempting to forbid the use of the United States mails to non-resident wholesalers of liquor in advertising their lawful business."

"If there is nothing in either the Wilson act or the Webb-Kenyon act which authorizes the State to interfere with the shipment and delivery of liquors ordered by a citizen of West Virginia for his own personal use from a licensed wholesale dealer without the State, and it follows that the temporary injunction awarded by the Kanawha Circuit Court should be dissolved and the bill dismissed."

The case for the State of West Virginia will be argued by Fred G. Blue, commissioner of prohibition, and by George E. Price for the defendant company.

DOES NOT BELIEVE STATE CAN BAR USE OF MAILS

"However, if it should so construe the act, I have no doubt that the highest Federal court would hold the law in that respect unconstitutional. However, that is a matter not directly arising here, as I do not construe the State law as attempting to forbid the use of the United States mails to non-resident wholesalers of liquor in advertising their lawful business."

"If there is nothing in either the Wilson act or the Webb-Kenyon act which authorizes the State to interfere with the shipment and delivery of liquors ordered by a citizen of West Virginia for his own personal use from a licensed wholesale dealer without the State, and it follows that the temporary injunction awarded by the Kanawha Circuit Court should be dissolved and the bill dismissed."

RAILROADS CONTRIBUTE

They Will Charge Nothing to Transport Belgian Relief Supplies.

NEW YORK, November 20.—To facilitate transportation of food and clothing for Belgian relief, all railroads of the Trunk Lines Association, covering territory east of the Mississippi and north of Norfolk, Va., will transmit such supplies without charge, it was announced to-night. The commission for relief in Belgium is trying to effect a similar arrangement with lines west of the Mississippi.

The next relief ship sailing under charter of the commission will load next week at Philadelphia, taking on supplies from the Northwestern States and Pennsylvania. About December 1 another ship will be dispatched from New York with a cargo of Western contributions.

Mrs. Herbert C. Hoover will sail next week to join her husband, chairman of the London commission, and assist him in his work. She was chairman of the American Women's Relief Committee in London during the early days of the war.

INDUSTRIAL JUSTICE ONLY BASIS FOR PEACE

Without It Capital and Labor Never Can Dwell Together in Harmony.

WILSON TALKS TO UNIONISTS

Secretary of Labor in President's Cabinet Defends His Department Against Charges of Partisanship Brought Against It.

PHILADELPHIA, November 20.—"There can be no permanent industrial peace that is not based on industrial justice," declared William B. Wilson, Secretary of the Federal Department of Labor, to-day to the delegates of the American Federation of Labor. Introduced to the convention by President Gompers as "Our Bill," and addressing the delegates as "fellow trade unionists," Secretary Wilson said that he had been criticized for certain statements he had made at the federal convention at Seattle last year, and declared that he reaffirmed what he said there, and he would not change a title of the statement that every title to property is a law-created and a law-protected title.

The secretary said he had also been accused of partisanship in conducting his department. "If securing justice to those who earn their living by the sweat of their face is partisanship," he exclaimed, "then count me a partisan on the side of the man that labors."

Mr. Wilson, in telling of the work of his department, said that the last year and a half it had handled scores of trade disputes, and that all have been settled with the exception of a Pere Marquette strike and the strikes at Calumet and in Colorado. The department, he added, takes the stand that the employer and the employee have mutual interest in creating a greater amount of production with a given amount of labor. They only divide to the share that should go to each, and the method under which it should be produced. When employer and employee reach this stage, he said, then it is the proper thing to sit down and solve the problem.

"The Department of Labor has also been accused of partisanship," Mr. Wilson continued, "on the theory that in acting as mediator in labor disputes it is performing a judicial function. That is not true. It performs diplomatic functions. There is no reason why the Department of Labor should be barred from handling labor disputes in a diplomatic manner, when there is for barring the State Department from handling international disputes."

HEALTH BOARD ELECTS FOUR NEW INSPECTORS

Names Walter A. Bowry, Thomas M. Landers, John J. Murphy and Roy R. Wrenn.

SELECTED FROM FIELD OF 110

F. Spencer Holdcraft Appointed Extra Clerk, and Miss B. Frances Robinson and Miss Bessie Irving as Additional Nurses.

The Board of Health, in special session to-night, increased its working machinery by the following appointments: Sanitary inspectors—Walter A. Bowry, Thomas M. Landers, John J. Murphy and Roy R. Wrenn.

Additional nurse—Miss B. Frances Robinson and Miss Bessie Irving. The appointments are temporary and are designed to take care of the increased needs of the Health Department until permanent provision is made in the next budget. The board adopted a resolution, directing the care of the new appointees during the period of their probation to be supervised by the Chief Health Officer, Mr. F. Spencer Holdcraft.

More than 150 applications were filed with the Board of Health for the four positions in the city proper. Mr. Levy said last night that all appointments were made strictly on the basis of the applicants, and that this consideration alone guided the board in making its selections.

EXPERIENCED MEN TO BE GIVEN NEW TERRITORY
It is the purpose of the Board of Health to rearrange the inspection districts so that the new territory added to the city by annexation will be cared for by the experienced inspectors who have served in the city proper. The new men will be assigned to territory which has long been under strict regulation and in which the problem of sanitation offers no peculiar difficulties.

The addition of four inspectors raises the inspecting force of the City Health Department to ten. The six old men, under recent orders, receive a salary of $1,000 a year. The four new men, as well as the additional clerk, will be paid at the rate of $600 a year.

Bids were opened for the erection of the proposed new smallpox hospital building, which has been available for several months. It was found that the lowest bid was made up until after the budget is made up, in the hope that by adding an appropriation it may be secured which will enable it to meet the kind of building that is needed.

HOPE IS ABANDONED

Neither of Vessels Which Collided at Sea Can Be Saved.

TAMPA, FLA., November 20.—Hope of saving either the steamer Mildred or the lumber-laden schooner Bragos, which collided off the mouth of Hillsborough Bay yesterday morning, has been abandoned.

Early this morning the Bragos broke away from the tug Edgar F. Coney, which was trying to tow her to port, and has disappeared. She is believed to have been piled on the beach by the high wind and seas. The Mildred has pounded to pieces where she sank after the collision.
